Keep Reading This Summer

During the summer, books might be the last thing on your child's mind. Most kids are ready for a break and happy to trade in reading, writing and arithmetic for summer camp, family vacations and lazy days of swimming. But many studies have shown that children who read when they're away from school perform better academically than those who don't.

Moving? If your children will be attending a different school next year please let Mrs. Lawrence in the office know as soon as possible. Then she can have their records sent to their new school before the school year begins. Thank You.

Have A Great Summer!
