Kindness & Tolerance

November, 2019

I would like to nominate Brayden for the Kindness and Tolerance Award. This sweet boy is always thinking how others are thinking and feeling. He has a huge heart and has gone out of his way to make someone's not so good day into a better one. He is gentle and kind to all, and continues to work hard at building those skills as a role model to others. I'm so happy that he is a part of our Nord Family. Thank you Brayden for being so kind.

~Mrs. Koester

I would like to nominate Paul for the Kindness and Tolerance award. He is new to Nord, but that hasn't stopped him from making many new friends! He is quick to offer an encouraging word to anyone in need. He somehow can sense if someone is having a hard day and makes it his priority to help turn that around. He is an excellent example of our character traits, and I am honored to be presenting him this award.

~Mrs. Worley

I am pleased to announce Lizzie as the 5th grade recipient of the Kindness and Tolerance award. Lizzie is a kid who makes an effort each day to show kindness to others. She is the kid who notices when someone is in need of a friend and never hesitates to jump in and make that person feel important and loved. She is also the kid who knows how to take a deep, patient breath when others are not making good choices and politely provide reminders of the expectations. She is just overall a kid who understands the value of kindness in life. It is no wonder at all why Lizzie has earned the respect and admiration of those who are lucky enough to know her.

~Mrs. Arnone

The seventh-graders voted and have nominated Jack G. to be the recipient of the award for Kindness and Tolerance during the month of November. It was a tough choice with a class full of pretty nice students, but ultimately, Jack was identified as the student who best exemplified these traits. He was noted for being a great person who is always kind to everyone and helps others feel good. In a class of students who tend to be warm, caring, and welcoming, he still managed to stand out. It is an honor to recognize Jack for this award.

~Mr. Rosso

The kindergarten student of the month that best represents kindness and tolerance is Shelby. Shelby is always quick with a smile for any friend feeling sad. She is a great helper in the classroom and at recess times as well. She is one of the first to offer up supplies to share with a friend in need. It is such a pleasure to have Shelby on our kinder team!

~Ms. A

For the second grade kindness and tolerant role model I have chosen Clara. I can always count on Clara to be a kind and tolerant student. She is kind to her friends with both her words and her actions. She includes everyone with the sweetest smile and her kind ways make her a delightful person to be around. She is patient with classmates and their choices even if they may not be the best and she is a role model for others in those moments. I can always count on her to sit by anyone in class and be helpful and respectful. It is a joy to be Clara's teacher.

~Mrs. Hill

Leslie consistently shows kindness towards others, whether it is providing a helping hand with solving a problem, checking in on an upset friend, or being tolerant of others. Each day, she encourages those around her to persevere and it is evident how much she believes in others capabilities. She enters our classroom every day with a positive attitude, and shows kindness to others even when they may be having a tough day. She sets an example of what caring for others looks like in our classroom, and I look forward to seeing where her kindness leads her.

~Ms. Cervantes

For 6th grade, the Kindness and Tolerance Award is going to Jasmine. Being kind does not involve a lot of effort, money or our time. It just requires a positive attitude and Jasmine has that! She is always the first person to offer to help when someone needs it; be it needing a pencil, helping a classmate through a tough assignment or giving a compliment to a friend, Jasmine is always there. Thank you Jasmine for being a role model to your classmates and showing us all how to be kind and thoughtful.

~Mrs. Ruley

The 8th grade recipient for the kindness and tolerance award is Dylan. Dylan has the type of kindness that can literally be felt just by being around him. His happy go lucky personality is enjoyed by his peers and teachers alike. Considerate is a synonym for kindness as it means being careful to not cause inconvenience or hurt to others. I see Dylan portray the definition of this word daily inside and outside of my classroom. Please help me congratulate Dylan on being the recipient for the kindness and tolerance award.
