

Students of the Month

Respect & Responsibility

August & September 2019

Paisyn is the kindergarten student who best represents respect and responsibility. She consistently follows classroom rules and is a role model for her classmates. She is an active participant in class discussions and never forgets to raise a tall quiet hand. I enjoy the fact that I can count on Paisyn to complete her work with personal best quality every day.

~Ms. A

Sara always is making an effort to be a good role model for behavior. Every transition in class she listens to directions to make sure she follows them. On the rug she always sits quietly and pays attention. When she is at her desk she does her best to complete her work quietly and respectfully. When other adults are teaching her she gives them this same attitude of respect.

~Mrs. Koester

Audrey is a role model in second grade on how to be a respectful and responsible student. She shows up to school in the morning ready to learn and has a positive influence on her classmates that makes them want to learn too. She follows classroom rules, completes her work thoughtfully, and is respectful in all areas on our campus. It is an absolute joy to have her in my class. Great job on being our Respectful and Responsible Student of the Month Audrey!

~Mrs. Hill

I would like to nominate Drake for the Respect and Responsibility award. He loves to laugh and have a good time, but knows when to rein in it and "be a five". In the classroom, he works hard to show respect by raising a quiet hand and is responsible in completing his tasks. He also shows respect to his classmates by using kind words to encourage them.

~ Ms. Worley

It has been wonderful having the opportunity to welcome Mae to our school. On a daily basis, she strives to show her peers and adults the respect that they deserve. She listens attentively to those that are sharing ideas and clarifies information to help her be successful within her learning. She sets an example for those around her, and I look forward to continue to see her share her ability to respect others throughout this year.

~Ms. Cervantes

The 5th grade student receiving the award for Respect and Responsibility is Mylie. Not only does Mylie work hard to make sure that she completes and turns in all assignments on a daily basis, she does all of this with a positive attitude and a smile on her face. When classmates are in need of help, Mylie, without prompting, gladly takes on the responsibility of being there for them, and does so in a kind and patient manner. It is very clear that Mylie cares deeply about her education and becoming the best overall person she can be.

~Mrs. Arnone

Although I am just getting to know Addy, she has amazed me with her level of respect and responsibility this month. Listening to her work with her learning partners in class and her teammates in volleyball have shown that she not only enjoys her friends but respects them too. Addy has also shown exceptional responsibility by getting her classwork and homework turned in on time with high-quality effort shown. It is my pleasure to honor Addy with this award.

~Mrs. Ruley

The seventh-grade class has voted and chosen Kylie as the student who best exemplified the character traits of Respect and Responsibility for the months of August and September. Kylie's classmates noted that she is "respectful, responsible, safe, and nice to a lot of people. She also cheers everyone up and always volunteers for everything." They commended her for the effort she puts into her schoolwork and her volleyball practice and games. They appreciated her cheerful attitude and respectful ways. It is an honor to recognize Kylie for this award.

~Mr. Rosso

The award for 8th grade goes to a student who we have watched mature into a responsible and respectful young person. Brandon shows up to school each day ready to learn, focused, attentive and on the rare occasion that he is absent ...he heads straight to his teachers to collect missed work. This student greets me with a "Good morning Mrs. Sloan" each day and please and thank you are always a part of his conversations. Even back when he was a squirrely 6th grader I knew he had the ability to be a respectful young person...even if he sometimes didn't know it how to show it. I am so proud of how much Brandon has grown over the past few years so please help me congratulate Brandon Wuelfing for the respect and responsibility award.
